Dear Jim,

5/20/75

This is a tape of Edward Bennett Williams on WNET-TV's "Assignment America" as aired on WETA-TV 9:30-10:00 p.m. tonight. I taped it off the air. Transcripts are available from WNET at $1.00 each.

I think you will be hard put to find quotes more to your liking, from beginning to end. I think you may want to make individual tapes of parts of what he says. What I thing to ask him on the witness stand, each of the many very quotable things, each of the beautiful principles, each of the boasts about his own dedication, how he handles cases, what the client is entitled to.

For the jury: after each, "Did you do this in this case Mr. Blackstone?"

From equal justice to best effort, with all the cliches in between, all the things the best lawyers do do and all he did not.

He even boasts the best pro bono record in town.
